The same state of things exists in the adjoining senatorial districts, east and south of us. Senator Whiting was at the Farmers' Convention in Kewanee in November which passed a resolution strongly condemning protective tariffs, which he supported by a sensible speech, yet this same with the same faith, will both belie their products the same faith, will both belie their products. the same faith, will both belie their professions, and will vote with Shepard, Warner and Johnston for Dick Oglesby for U. S. Senator, whom they know to be an old high tariff fogy of the bluest stripe!

Don't say they won't do this outrageous thing. Don't say they will not disregard the interests of their constituents, and do this very thing, for they will do it. They dare not do otherwise. "They dare not," is the word. Will any one say that when for Dick, they will dare to presume to ut-ter a single whimper of dissent? Their back bones will depart, and they will tremble like piles of jelly, and piterously look up to their leaders and promise obedience, and for a single pat on their heads will dance around their masters like level unrange.

There eyes are wide open. There is a mistake about Oglesby's opinions. The no mistake about Oglesby's opinions. The Chicago Journal, the most orthodox of the tariff papers, in its number of July 2, speaking of Oglesby's speech at Decatur on the 29th of June, says, "His views on in the the tariff question were eminently states-manlike. The necessity of fostering our infant manufactures for the present, was clearly demonstrated, while at the same time he admitted the advisability of gradually reducing the tariff to the lowest extent the bare safety of our manufacturing in-Prepared only by A.
